Dear Friends,
What a busy month!

We are so glad the children have started back to school again, unfortunately with a lot of hard studying to catch up on.

We had some mixed weather over the last few months with the tail end of the hurricanes, afraid Autumn and Winter are on the way, we mustn't complain though.

With so many of our Summer attractions cancelled as well as our holidays it will be nice to look forward to some good news around the corner.

Halloween is on 31st and it's lovely to see the little children get so excited. Make sure you have some treats in store!

Remember to get your heating checked and the car serviced with antifreeze, to avoid any major problems during the cold winter months.

Wishing you all a lovely October - please remember to keep an eye on older neighbours.

Look out for us on the road in our Love Wirral & Chester van and keep up to date with us on facebook and our facebook group, twitter & visit us at:

Best Wishes Maxine

DATA BREACH

DATA BREACHES – WHAT ARE THEY?

In 2014 the High Court held that the mis-use of private information was an actionable case in its own right. The case confirmed that there is no need to show damage has been caused for a person to make a claim under the Data Protection Act the distress of the information being mis-used is enough.

In 2018 the GDPR regulations came into force which stated that any person who has suffered material (if you have lost money) or non-material damage (such as distress) as a result of an infringement of GDPR has a right to receive compensation from the data controller for damage suffered.

The level of compensation you will be awarded is based on a case by case basis and depends upon the impact the breach has had upon you and how serious the breach was.

You can complain to the Information Commissioners Office, however they cannot award you compensation for any breaches.

Typical claims would include were a GP practice or hospital send a confidential report or medical records to the wrong person. The correct person is then notified and as such can seek compensation for the breach. Other examples include larger companies being hacked or a member of staff selling peoples information on to others the victims would be entitled to compensation.

Phoenix Legal Solicitors have specialists in this area how can guide you through the claims process. We deal with these claims on a no win, no fee basis and our deduction is capped at 25% from your compensation at the end. However as soon as liability is admitted this is reduced to a maximum of 15% deduction automatically.

HOYLAKE DONATION SHOP OPEN

It's 9.45am on a bright Wednesday morning in Market Street in Hoylake. The cafés and bars are preparing their morning coffee and brunch offers, setting out neat tables and chairs for their customers in the open air as well as spacing them safely indoors.

Some retailers are also open and taking the necessary precautions so that their customers can shop safely whilst observing the current coronavirus guidelines.

Wirral Hospice St John's big new Hoylake Donation Centre, at the former site of the Coop store, adjacent to The Row in Hoylake, is already buzzing with staff and volunteers sifting through thousands of items of clothing, toys, household items, bags, and jewellery as well as all kinds of weird (occasionally) and wonderful bric-a-brac and accessories that piled in the week before.

From rags (gratefully accepted as the hospice earns a donation for recycling them) to potential riches, witness Hayley in the designer sunglasses alongside other potentially lucrative branded clothing, shoes, handbags and eye-catching curios which will be sorted for the hospice ebay account.

It's only the second week of operation but the donation centre is in full swing. Everything that has been donated in the previous week has now been safely

As the centre is only open on Wednesdays and Thursdays, between 10am and 3pm for donations, all of the previous week's goodies are now being furiously sorted for re-distribution to the charity shops.

There's 6,000 square feet of space with the floors clearly marked off ready for the influx of new donors who have booked a slot to drop off their goods at the rear of the donation centre!

The hospice supporters have followed the instructions at www.wirralhospice.org/shopping to book a slot and then received an email with a map explaining how to get to the back of the store at their chosen time.

At five minutes to ten the first car arrives with a boot (and back seat) full of boxes and bin bags ready to stack onto the loading bay at the rear of the store.

Paddy (Patrick Smith, the hospice's Retail Development Manager, thumbs up in the pic at the top of this story) is ready, alongside a further two fundraising staff (today it's Hayley and Jamie-Leigh, pictured, although a number of others have helped the week before and are ready to step in for the foreseeable future), to greet the hospice supporters, direct them to safely lay down their pre-loved items and then, if they're eligible, advise them on how to sign-up to Gift Aid to allow the hospice to claim a further 25% on their donated items.

Now, the safe movement and storage begins and it is literally a virtual marathon!

A steady stream of donors start to unload and, after labelling the bags and boxes which are gift-aided, the team start to make the journey, laden with bags, into the space inside and then back outside to receive/carry more, and more, goods.

The donations just keep coming and by 11am the team have already clocked up over 4,000 steps each and their biceps and quadriceps are burning. A great workout, just another 4 or 5 hours to go!

and the stock that is now flooding into the Hoylake Donation Centre will help to fill up their rails, shelves and displays.

Having to close the shops these past several months due to the coronavirus has inevitably hit revenues hard. All of the donations and the hard work of staff and volunteers gives the hospice the greatest belief that it will, as soon as allowed, rebuild the charity shops back to making their invaluable financial contribution to the specialist care and support services for which the hospice is held in such high regard.

There is now a limited service for people wanting to donate larger items, sofas, three-piece suites, beds, wardrobes and other furniture items. Time and space is currently at a premium for this and potential donors are being asked to send photos, with fire labels where appropriate, to fundraising@wirralhospice.org to join the waiting list for pick up.

Meanwhile, Kerry (in green here), Sue (in hospice blue below) and Helen (too shy for photo), who normally volunteer at the New Brighton charity shop, are in the 'space beyond storage', opening bin bags and boxes, at socially distanced tables, while organizing everything ready for transport to shops at Moreton, Liscard, Birkenhead and New Brighton which have recently re-opened.

In time the other charity shops, at Claughton, Heswall and West Kirby, will

Ford Puma Titanium – 1.0L EcoBoost MHEV 6-speed Manual

I don't know about you, but I remember the good old Ford classics from my younger days, such as the Escort RS1600i and the bonking mad Escort RS Turbo Mk1 & Mk2.

When I was 21 years old, I bought a rather 'well used' Mk1 Escort Mexico which I then went on to own for about 23 years. A few years ago, I sold it and I very much regret it, because no other car I have ever owned since has made me feel as alive at the wheel as that old Mk1 did – and, I doubt I will ever get the chance to own another one now because the prices – even for a banged-up Mk1 Mexico in need of restoration are now 10k plus.

Happily, though - Ford has lent me the new 'Puma' and I have to say that it's probably the only car so far this year I have got really excited about. So, let's give it the once over.

Power and Efficiency:

Powered by 1.0 Litre EcoBoost petrol engine with 210Nm of torque, 125PS of Ford Power and a 0-62 time of around 9.8 seconds. To finish off, the Puma will achieve a maximum top speed of around 119mph.

If you do want to know about fuel economy, then the highest mpg you can expect to achieve is around 61.4 mpg (high end) and 43.5 (low end) Looking good then. Also, I used the Puma as my vehicle for my summer holiday to Devon and let's just say it was packed full to bursting with holiday gear and three children. Even with all that, it still managed to return a steady 53.4mpg. CO2 Emissions were also g/km: 96

On the road:

The Puma feels fantastic to drive – and if I'm being honest, it has outstanding driving dynamics and a suspension setup that's spot on. This is something I have not felt in a while – especially from a vehicle of this type. Also, no matter what the road surface was doing – the Puma handled it very well.

Of course, the ride for some, may feel a tad soft, but for me, it felt stable and a real joy to take into the twisty bends around some of Devon's more challenging roads.

Design & Technology:

As you can see from the image, the new Ford Puma is a great looking vehicle. Also, while I was away, many people commented on the looks – and one gentleman even said he was looking for a new car and would be off to his nearest Ford dealer that very afternoon to take a test drive.

So, what do you get in the form of key features? Well, you get; 17" 10-Spoke Alloy Wheels, Projector Headlamps with LED Day Time Running lights, Cornering Lights & LED Rear Lamps, Ford MegaBox Extended Boot Space, Power-foldable Heated Door Mirrors, Electronic Ait Temperature Control (EATC) Ford SYNC 3 Navigation with B&O Premium Audio & 10 Speakers, Selectable Drive Modes – Normal, Eco, Sport, Slippery & Trail. Plus; Cruise Control, Lane Keeping Assist, Pre-Collision Assist with Autonomous Emergency Braking, ESC, Hill Start Assist, Rear Parking Sensors, Thatcham Alarm and much more.

To sum up:

All in all, Ford have once again created a remarkable piece of engineering. Hats off to the boys from Ford for making all my dreams come true once again. If I was looking to buy a modern family vehicle right about now – then the Puma is the only one you need in your stable. Maybe that's why it just stole my heart.

HEALTHIER LIVING MADE EASY

Living a healthy lifestyle can be a challenge when faced with a lack of time and the ease and availability of convenient foods. There's no time like the present, however, to get your body in tip-top shape. The impact of good health on your quality of life, regardless of age or physical ability, can be far reaching. From controlling weight by eating right, even on a busy schedule, to making that smile shine a little brighter, use these ideas to help you become a happier, healthier you.

Balance Brings Results

Managing your weight doesn't mean giving up flavour and convenience.

Losing weight—and keeping the pounds off—isn't a quick or easy process, but a few simple diet tricks can be a big help along the way. Our favourites? Eating lots of protein, fibre, and healthy carbs, which boost your metabolism and keep you feeling full all day long.

Stretch Your Limits

Aside from the physical benefits associated with yoga, including weight loss, increased energy and improved flexibility, it can help manage stress and the effects it can have on the body and mind. Because of its rise in popularity and the different ways to practice yoga, it has never been easier to do in the comfort of your home.

Getting your own yoga mat, available at local sporting goods stores, is an inexpensive way to help sculpt your mind and body.

Monitor Activity on the Go

Keeping track of your personal metrics, such as steps walked in a day, quality of sleep, heart rate and calories consumed, can be time consuming.

Wearable wireless-enabled activity trackers automate this task and allow you to easily log your data on your smartphone or computer while also keeping up-to-the-second track of your progress. Fitness trackers, which are available at most local sporting goods and electronics retailers, can help you identify areas for improvement and reach your goals with ease.

NEW CHARTER FOR OPEN SPACES

The Open Spaces Society(1), Britain's oldest national conservation body, calls for a better deal for open spaces. Today it launches its charter for open spaces [attached] and has written to Robert Jenrick, the Secretary of State for Housing, Communities and Local Government, and to all of England's planning authorities.

The society calls on government to introduce a national plan and standards for open spaces, and to place a duty on local authorities to ensure that everyone can enjoy good-quality, well-maintained and safe open space within 300 metres of their homes. It says that such spaces should be secured as part of development. Local Green Space(2) must offer greater protection than now, and the process for designating it must be improved.

The society urges planning authorities to adopt robust policies for the acquisition, management and protection of green spaces, to have a budget for them and to dedicate their green spaces as town or village green to ensure their protection.

It recommends communities to get involved in their local planning processes before land is allocated for development, to identify spaces which need protection and to form friends' groups to champion local spaces.

The society pledges to lobby government to secure open spaces and access to nature through the 25-year environment plan, the Agriculture and Environment Bills and the new Environmental Land Management Scheme. It will continue to advise its members on how to protect their open spaces.

In particular the society wants to see greater use of the opportunity to register land as a town or village green(3) as mitigation for development, and has asked each planning authority to consider voluntary registration of the land which it owns, and to encourage developers to do the same by making this a condition of planning permission. It has also asked the authorities to send examples of its policies and good practice for open spaces, so that the society can create a dossier for green space, and spread the word.

Says Phil Wadey, the society's newly-elected chairman: 'During lockdown people have enjoyed their local spaces and paths as never before, and this use continues beyond the pandemic. We know there is a great disparity in the distribution and quality of open spaces, and that investment in these assets provides excellent value for money by improving people's health and well-being.'

'We therefore call on government, local authorities and communities to work together to ensure that everyone has access to good-quality green space close to home. This is a vital element of the green recovery after the pandemic. We have made proposals as to how this can be achieved.'

How to Host the Perfect Spooky Gathering

Halloween is the perfect time to throw on a costume and act like a kid. Of course, you want friends and family there to partake in the spooky fun, too, so here are a few tips to make sure your party is remembered long after the witches put away their cauldrons:

■ Set a festive mood: Creepy Halloween decor, such as spider webs and lanterns, can be placed around the house and garden to help get guests into the holiday spirit. Halloween-themed music, such as “Monster Mash” and movies, such as “Dracula” and “Frankenstein,” can help offset any down time, as can sharing scary stories.

- Play some ghoulish games: Bobbing for apples is a Halloween tradition you can't leave out. Halloween bingo or a pin the tail on the donkey-type game, such as pin the nose on the skull, can also add to the fun. Or try a treasure hunt for a ghost ship's loot by scattering clues around the house that lead to ghoulish goodies.
- Vampires, ghosts and zombies: Add a costume contest to the mix and hand out prizes to some of the best. Try breaking the contest into a few categories or by age, and awarding prizes, such as most creative, judge's choice and crowd favourite.

SOLICITOR ON THE RUN – AGAIN!

Birkenhead Rotarian, Solicitor Norman Jones, who has taken part in almost 20 10K races raising charitable funds, is undertaking a solo lockdown run in aid of organisations supported by Birkenhead Rotary Club.

With the Club donating over £20,000 last year, the majority of which supported local organisations, the need for finding other ways of raising funds during the pandemic is vital. So, 72- year- old Norman, who has been in strict training, is completing a 5K run, 12noon on Friday 23rd October. The start point will be Birkenhead Rotary Way – the roundabout by the entrance to the Birkenhead Tunnel. He will then travel along Hamilton Street and then complete 10 laps of Hamilton Square, hoping to raise funds from both Rotarians and the public.

Club President Cath Hayes commented; “As with all charities, Rotary Clubs have lost the opportunity of raising much needed funds and, during this pandemic we are seeing increasing needs for our support. We are so very grateful to Norman for his efforts.” Local causes supported by the Club have included Shaftesbury Youth Club – raising funds for a minibus, local children in need, homeless charities, a community shop in Birkenhead, Talking Newspapers, Women and Children’s Aid, Charles Thompson Mission and donating following disasters.

Anyone wishing to support “Storming Norman”, who served as a major in the Territorial Army-now retired, can telephone him on 07834895786 or send cash or cheque donations; payable to Above: Although posted in 1942, this postcard was printed before war broke out as it shows the Crescent West Kirby was still two-way traffic (it became one-way in 1938) there was no shortage of garments in Jones' window on the right. The Christian Institute is the tall half-timbered building in the distance which fronted onto Grange Road and the Blenheim Cafe was to the right which later became Blenheim Fruiters.

Right: The sign above the door reads 'RV 1733' and probably refers to Richard Vernon. In 1822 records show that it was named 'The White Horse' but by 1850 it had changed to 'The Nag's Head' in Willaston. In the 1930s the building was structurally altered.

Above: 1953. Teapot Row in the distance, where Greasby Road bends to the left, was demolished in the first road-widening in this part of Greasby in 1960.

The Coach and Horses Inn, extreme left, is still there today but the buildings to the right, Hugh Rowe's Saddler's shop and the smithy were demolished in the second road-widening scheme in 1967.

New Ferry Butterfly Park celebrated its Silver Jubilee Local wildlife heroes are celebrated its 25th Anniversary of New Ferry Butterfly Park Nature Reserve.

Acquired by Cheshire Wildlife Trust in 1993 and opened in 1995, New Ferry Butterfly Park has become unrecognisable from the post-industrial wasteland that it used to be. Formerly an old railway siding, brickworks and goods yard, New Ferry Butterfly Park embraces the value of urban wildlife while remaining true to its industrial heritage.

The park sits in a largely developed area next to Bebington train station yet, provides a significant refuge for local wildlife. Over twenty-six species of butterfly have been recorded on site with at least seventeen of those breeding on-site.

Visitors are free to walk amongst the various wildflower meadows and take part in the interactive exhibits, including a local history trail. Other attractions include pond dipping, a picture scavenger hunt and local art that have been commissioned by the park.

Leased by Cheshire Wildlife Trust, the site is independently managed by a local committee of volunteers, many of whom have been involved with the site since its creation. Dr Hilary Ash is one of those volunteers. She comments:

"It is marvellous to see how the vision of Mel Roberts, the original founder, has been fulfilled in all the wildlife and all the people who come here."

The park had plans to host a silver jubilee celebration with over 1,000 people however, the recent health measures have led to the group cancelling their big plans. Park Manager and volunteer Paul Loughnane has made it clear that the park remains open with social distancing measures in place and hopes that there will be a big 'twenty-five years plus one' celebration next year.

James Melling from Cheshire Wildlife Trust comments:

"The New Ferry Butterfly Park is such a great example of how derelict land can be transformed into something that is fantastic for wildlife. Many people may think that brownfield sites have little ecological value, yet that could not be further from the truth. The fact that this nature reserve has evolved from its industrial past into an eco-friendly community space is testament to the hard work of the volunteers who have been involved in this project. It really goes the extra mile to connect people with nature."

The site is open to the public every Sunday 1-4pm (weather permitting) from May until mid-September and every second Sunday of the month from September – April. Anyone who wishes to volunteer or visit the park can find more information on their Facebook page.

Top Autumn tips to prepare your garden for Winter

Your crops have been harvested, and the exuberant summer colour has faded from your borders – but don't be fooled into thinking that it's all over until next spring. Autumn is a busy time in the garden, clearing away the decaying vegetation of the summer and preparing the garden for the cold winter months ahead. Let the big clear up begin!

Spring clean your greenhouse in autumn

Cleaning the inside and outside of the greenhouse makes sense to help reduce overwintering pests and diseases. Remove the plants before sweeping out any plant debris. Disinfect the greenhouse paths and staging, and the inside of the glass too. Use a hot solution of garden disinfectant such as Jeyes Fluid. You will need to ventilate your greenhouse well over the next couple of days to dry it thoroughly.

Throughout the quiet winter months make an effort to wash out pots and seed trays in preparation for the spring sowing and planting. Don't forget that you can still sow plenty of vegetables to grow in winter. Click here to take a look at our 'Top 10 vegetables to grow over winter' article.

Tidy Borders

Dig up annuals and add them to the compost heap. You can replant your beds with winter bedding such as pansies, bellis daisies and wallflowers for a colourful display next spring.

Autumn provides an ideal opportunity to move poorly placed plants, and divide overcrowded perennials while the soil is still warm. Cut back faded perennials to 5cm above ground level, but don't be too tidy. They will also provide shelter for overwintering insects. Once your borders are clean and tidy, spread a thick layer of compost, bark chips or well rotted manure across them. Don't worry about digging it in - let the worms do the hard work for you.

Lawn maintenance

If your lawn looks slightly worse for wear then autumn is the perfect time to revitalise it. Remove thatch (old grass clippings) and moss using a spring tined rake and add it to the compost heap. If you have large amounts of moss then you may want to use a moss killer first. In areas that receive a lot of wear (such as paths and play areas) the soil can become compacted. Improve drainage and aeration by making deep holes with the prongs of a garden fork every 10cm across the entire area.

A sandy top dressing can be brushed in afterwards, followed by an application of autumn lawn feed to prepare your lawn for the cold winter months.

Plant evergreens

Evergreens form the backbone of the garden, providing structure and year round interest, so the more evergreens in your garden, the better it will look in winter! With warm soil and cooler conditions, autumn is the perfect time to fill those gaps in your borders. Sarcococca and Daphne will bring glossy green leaves and beautifully fragrant flowers in the depths of winter while the rest of your garden is dormant. For an elegant larger shrub try spring flowering Camellias or Fatsia for its large architectural foliage.

For a more formal look, why not invest in some box or yew topiary. Lonicera nitida, Bay and Holly can also be clipped into formal shapes and make excellent evergreen hedges too.

STAFF TO KEEP SPIRITS HIGH AT HESWALL CARE HOME WITH FUN-FILLED ACTIVITIES

A Heswall care home plans to keep its residents 'entertained and happy' with a fun-filled calendar of activities this Autumn.

The Hazelwell, a residential, residential dementia, nursing, palliative and respite care in Oldfield Road, has closed its doors to non-essential visitors for a second time due to an increase in coronavirus cases on the Wirral.

Care home manager Sue Alexander says the home has taken the steps to safeguard those in its care but remains committed to ensuring residents have lots of fun through its varied on-site activities programme.

The team at The Hazelwell are planning quizzes, painting, arts and craft, baking, singalongs and other recreational activities to keep its residents busy over the Autumn months. They will also be able to continue to enjoy film screenings in the home's cinema room, with appropriate social distancing measures as required.

Residents also have access to The Hazelwell's beautiful rooftop terrace area, with views over the River Dee, while family members will be able to keep in touch with residents through video calling.

The Hazelwell care home manager Sue Alexander said: "The health, safety and wellbeing of our residents and staff is our top priority. While the home remains closed to non-essential visitors for now, our super team have a fantastic activity programme lined up for residents to keep them entertained and happy this Autumn.

"The facilities here at The Hazelwell are second to none and our residents can continue to enjoy all that we offer here with appropriate social distancing and safety measures in place.

"We will also make sure that families are still able to see and speak to their loved ones as much as possible through video calling. Lots of our residents have become very familiar with video calls and keeping in touch with family members is extremely important to their overall wellbeing."

Opened in 2016, The Hazelwell is well equipped to look after the needs of its residents with 55 tastefully decorated en-suite rooms with facilities including a piano bar, library, garden terrace, and fine dining which is prepared daily by the on-site chef.

For more information call on 0151 342 9654, email info@thehazelwell.com or visit www.thehazelwell.com

Thank You!

FOR YOUR SUPPORT!

HAZELWELL
CARE HOME

The Hazelwell Care Home would like to extend our thanks to our residents, their families, our team and members of the local community for their love and support in these challenging times. Special thanks go to JPL Flavour Technologies for their kind donation of hand sanitiser and Domino's Pizza for donating pizzas for residents and staff to enjoy!

We think it's really important, especially when times are tougher than normal, to keep spirits lifted and spread some happiness. From celebrating International Nurses Day to taking part weekly in Clap for our Carers, it's these little moments of joy that make all the difference to our residents at The Hazelwell. We are extremely grateful for all of the donations, gifts, letters, drawings and paintings received from the local community.

Providing care of the highest standard continues to be our top priority at The Hazelwell. We have processes and procedures in place to safely admit residents into their new home, and welcome all enquiries.

Our new dementia suite will be opening soon, offering residents high levels of specialist care. Purpose-built to help residents with dementia, our dementia suite will include ease of access for maximum mobility, colour-led navigation, photographs, sensory items and much more.

STILL HERE FOR YOU WHEN YOU NEED US MOST

You can find out more by visiting our website, following us on Facebook or calling our Home Manager on 0151 342 9654.
